

Interim HR Leader Program

The solution to transitional HR leadership challenges

All senior-level leaders influence the direction of your company, yet the return on investment for a stellar HR hire can easily be seen across the organization. A company's Head of HR is not only privy to sensitive information, but sets the standard for culture, spearheads employee experience, impacts overall profitability, and bears the responsibility of keeping your company compliant. You know, tiny things. So taking the time to find a suitable permanent HR hire is a must.

But with a vacancy in the lead HR position, many organizations are left scrambling for help with day-to-day "people matters." Montani's Interim HR Leader Program expertly guides growth-minded businesses through this transition. For as long as your HR seat is vacant, we'll "keep it warm" to ensure nothing falls through the cracks so you can continue with business as usual.

Montani's Interim HR Leader Program provides:

- Expert guidance (and decision-making) on any HR and people operations matters.
- General HR support for ongoing projects and day-to-day functions.
- Interim leadership and coaching for HR team members who work under the vacant Head of HR role.
- Leveraging our expert connections when legal or subject-matter experts are needed.
- Recruiting support and candidate screening for your next permanent HR executive.
- Onboarding services for senior HR hire.
